

ClefNotes December 2008

Dream of finding the perfect gift for the music lover in your life

Have you ever wanted a cool way to express your inner music beat? Do you want to honor a loved one's commitment to music while also encouraging hip attire? Would you like to have the wearable equivalent of a secret handshake to share with other music enthusiasts?

During the first week of December, ClefWorks can offer you perfectly composed gifts: top-quality apparel and accessories emblazoned with musical witticisms. Visit ClefWearables at <http://www.logobrander.com/clefwearables> to see the complete line of fashionable shirts for all ages, special winter wear, baseball caps, and messenger bags graced with admonitions true music fans can't help but enjoy. This very limited holiday offering ends December 8th. So don't miss your chance to find one of kind gifts and ensure receipt before Christmas and Hanukkah. Your purchases are sure to be this holiday season's biggest new hit while also supporting the education and outreach efforts of ClefWorks! Remember this is a limited holiday offer; don't miss your chance to Bach around the clock!

Don't dream of forgetting Dream On

ClefWorks' Dream On season finally arrives in January 2009 – and it's an ideal antidote to the post-holiday doldrums. Click here <http://www.clefworks.org/currentSeason.cfm> for concert series details.

Grace Notes: Other Musical Happenings in Montgomery

At 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 2, new Montgomery Symphony Orchestra Cello Fellow Dan Totan will perform Tchaikovsky, Shostakovich, and Prokofiev at the Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts. (Want tickets? Call 240-4004.)

On Friday, December 5 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, December 7 at 2:30 p.m., the Montgomery Chorale performs its holiday concert Te Deum! at Ligon Chapel in Flowers Hall on the campus of Huntingdon College. For ticket information, please call 265-3737 or visit www.montgomerychorale.org.

The Montgomery Youth Orchestra takes to the Montgomery Performing Arts Center stage for a free concert at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, December 13. Click here http://www.montgomerysymphony.org/youthPrograms_montYouthOrchestra.htm] for more information.

The Pops are back! The Montgomery Symphony Orchestra's Holiday Pops Concert moves to the new Montgomery Performing Arts Center for an afternoon of festive favorites at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, December 14. A special "Musical Sampler for Children" will be in the lobby beginning at 1:45 giving children ages 5 to 12 a chance to check out instruments and meet members of the orchestra. Click here http://www.montgomerysymphony.org/concerts_pops.htm] for tickets and information.